

Nils Hoppe, LL.B. (Europe) (Nottingham Trent); Dr. iur. (Hannover):

Nils Hoppe is a full professor of 'Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences' and director of the Centre for Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences (CELLS) at Leibniz Universität Hannover (LUH). Nils Hoppe is Dean of Research at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences at LUH and a member of various boards, for example the DFG Senate Committee on Animal Experimentation. His research focuses on cross-border legal issues in life sciences, and on ethical, legal and social implications (ELSI) of regenerative medicine, human biomaterials, genetics and genomics, animal experimentation.

Education:

1996-2000	Nottingham Law School (LL.B. (Europe), Nottingham, UK
1998-1999	Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg, Germany
2002-2003	Faculty of Law, Georg-August-Universität Göttingen, Germany
2004-2008	Faculty of Law, Leibniz Universität Hannover (LUH), Germany
2015	Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (Associate, international arbitration), London, UK
2016-2017	BPP Law School, Bar Transfer, London, UK

Academic Appointments and Research Posts:

2001-2003	Staff Scientist, legal advisor, University Medical Centre Göttingen, Germany
2003-2004	Staff Scientist, Department for Ethics and History of Medicine, Georg-August-Universität Göttingen, Germany
2004-2008	Lecturer in English for Law, LUH, Germany
2008-2011	Staff Scientist, Centre for Philosophy and Ethics of Sciences and Institute for Legal Informatics, LUH, Germany
2010-2012	Visiting Research Fellow, Centre for Health, Law and Emerging Technologies and Magdalen College, University of Oxford 2011-2013 Junior Professor for Regulation in the Life Sciences, Institute of Philosophy, LUH, Germany
2013-2016	Professor for Regulation in the Life Sciences, Institute of Philosophy, LUH, Germany
Since 2016	Professor for Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences, CELLS, LUH, Germany
Since 2017	Dean of Research, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Hannover, Germany

Other Professional Activities:

Since 2008	Ethics Expert, Innovative Medicines Initiative, European Commission, Brussels
Since 2014	Member of the DFG Senate Committee on Animal Experimentation
Since 2015	Chairman of the Advisory Board, Refugé Law Clinic Hannover
Since 2017	Member of the PHAGO Ethics Advisory Board (Janssen Pharmaceuticals, Johnson & Johnson)
Since 2017	Member of the German Federal Government's Expert Team on Innovative Health Technologies

Major Research Interests:

Ethical, Legal and Social Implications of:

- Regenerative medicine
- Human biomaterials
- Genetics and genomics
- Animal experimentation

Other activities:

Associate Member, Coram Chambers, London; Fellow, Royal Society of Medicine; Editor-in-Chief of "Ethics, Law and Economics of the Life Sciences", Nomos. Editorial board member: European Journal of Health Law, Medical Law International.

Contact:

Nils Hoppe
Leibniz Universität Hannover
CELLS - Centre for Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences
Otto-Brenner-Straße 1
30159 Hannover
Tel.: +49 (0) 511 762 - 5222
E-Mail: info@cells.uni-hannover.de or yvonne.stoerber@cells.uni-hannover.de

Further Information:

<http://www.cells.uni-hannover.de/nh.html>